

The FFFX Pre-Entry Trade Method

A High-Confidence Trade Execution Checklist by Raveena Lakhtaria

HTF Level Confirmed

- Only enter at a clean HTF zone — mapped out on the H4, or H1 if the H4 candle confirms the placement.
- Location and candle placement on H4 must align with your level — no random entries.

Strength of the Zone

- Is this a clear buying, clear selling, or combo area?
- Look for signs of buyer/seller strength or weakness — especially important in transitional zones where direction may shift.
- Be extra critical here — this is where most traders get caught out.

What's Been Broken / Tested / Untested

- Track structure precisely:
- What levels have been broken?
- What zones have been tested?
- What areas are still untested?

Momentum Check

- Always assess momentum before entering
it's non-negotiable.

Momentum helps you:

- Validate your entry direction (buy/sell).
- Decide whether to enter now or wait for a better price.
- Find an alternative entry if your ideal one is missed.

Structure + Candle Closes

Map recent structure and how candles have closed around your level.

Ask yourself:

- “If I’m buying/selling here — what’s the logical range of this move?”
- “Where might price stall, flip or reject?”
- “How much room do I realistically have for profit?”

Trade Logic Fully Clear

Final check: Is your plan built on structure, not emotion?

Do you know:

Why you're entering?

What invalidates the trade?

Where you'll manage or exit?
